

ALL MOBILISED AGAINST (CLIMATE (CHANGE

From the 30 November to 12 December 2015, the 21st United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP21) will take place in Paris.

For the past 20 years, the climate negotiations and the international community have failed to address the immense climate challenge. We believe that there can be no real transition without massive citizen engagement. This is why the Coalition Climat 21 – uniting more than one hundred associations, networks, unions and organisations – aims at building a strong and lasting movement for climate justice.

Our future is at stake: if polar bears are a powerful symbol of the direct consequences of climate change, the real underlying challenge is to secure a system that allows everyone to live a decent life while respecting the life-supporting environmental equilibrium.

Today, we are positive that the world we want is within our reach: a world safe from climate change's devastating effects, where every single individual can lead a decent life with a decent job, breathe clean air in a protected environment, and building truly sustainable societies for all everywhere... in other words, a better life for all of us!

To change everything, we need every each one of you. Join us! Let's build these mobilisations together and let's change the course of history!

JOIN OUR MOVEMENT FOR THE COP AND BEYOND

The struggle against climate change and its causes has already started. You'll find below the Coalition Climat 21's key dates for action:

26-27 September

in our capitals or regions, let's show that alternatives to tackle climate change are already there and delivering the change that we need.

29 November

on the eve of the international conference, let's gather in the streets of Paris and every city worldwide to make our voices heard in a joint day of action against climate change.

5-12 December

let's increase our mobilisation through initiatives, actions and debates, and gather in Paris on the 12 December for a mass mobilisation showing the world that the climate movement will continue growing and spreading even after the COP.
